

2006-2009 Spalding (COA) Community College Basketball Program

Dear COA Basketball Coach:

It is our pleasure to inform you that the California Community Colleges through our COA Adoption will be switching to our new Spalding TF1000 ZK Pro and TF1000 ZK Pro 28.5 basketball for the 2005 - 2006 Season. The 2005 championship will continue to use the TF-1000. This update is for next season. Here are the details of the 2005-06 and beyond program:

1. The TF1000 ZK Pro will carry a laser engraved COA (Commission on Athletics) logo on each ball for 2005 - 2006 and going forward during the adoption. The Spalding / COA adoption is in force through 2009.
2. You may pre-book this product on your orders with your California team dealers using the style number 64-4967 COA for the ZK PRO Men's and 64-4987 COA for the ZK PRO Women's versions. There is a three week lead time for delivery. If your district puts items out to bid, please have the correct item numbers <shown above> listed. Please order by June 1, 2005.
3. You may order these items as you need them during the school year. Standard pack requirements do apply to these purchases. They can be purchased either in fifteen (15) packs or six (6) packs. Please allow a three week time frame from order to delivery from your local dealer. Spalding can drop ship this product to you within salesman territorial boundaries through your identified local dealer. Freight charges will be applicable to these orders.
4. Please note that you are ordering a custom product for the California Community Colleges (COA) through Spalding.
5. This is a "California only" allocated product. No out of state dealers may have access to these products. You will receive a fair market price from California dealers. A list of authorized California team dealers is available on the COA website. Please refer your purchasing agent to these dealers.

If you have questions or concerns, please feel free to give me a call. We look forward to our continuing to work with you as a Spalding Partner. We look forward to a smooth, seamless transition to our new and improved generation of product.

Thank you for your business and loyalty in the past.

Sincerely,

Chris Sims
